

Philadelphia Church of God

WORLD HEADQUARTERS

The Philadelphia Church of God produces music albums designed to entertain, uplift and inspire. Philadelphia Singers albums include a variety of sacred and inspirational music—from country to Celtic, classical to contemporary. Many of the works are original songs, along with remakes of standard inspirational tunes. Herbert W. Armstrong College's Young Ambassadors produce DVDs of music videos based on show tunes, jazz hits and popular ballads—highlighting the college campus.

Long Live the King (Philadelphia Singers)

This album, produced in 1999, features original works such as the heartfelt “Prayer for the Young,” the celtic “Song of Faith,” and great standards of the choral repertoire like George Frideric Handel’s famous coronation anthem, “Zadok the Priest.”

Available on cassette only: $3 (SALE!)

Son of the Highest (Philadelphia Singers)

Released in 2000, this album features the ballad “She Is Wisdom,” and powerful visionary songs like “Evermore” and “This Is the Way.”

Available on cassette only: $3 (SALE!)

Onward (Philadelphia Singers)

This 2002 album, titled after the final number—a new, driving arrangement of “Onward, Christian Soldiers”—is a stirring compilation of originals, folk hymns, a sea shanty about Jonah, and showstoppers like “Through Heaven’s Eyes” from Prince of Egypt and the toe-tapping “Stick-to-it-iveness.”

Available on CD: $10

Victory (Philadelphia Singers)

The title number of this 2003 album was inspired by the PCG’s miraculous victory in attaining copyrights to fundamental literature after a grueling six-year court battle. This album explores various cultures’ sounds with the African-like tune “Deep and Wide” and the Latin flares of “Animal Kingdom”—a song based on the description of tame animals in Isaiah 11.

Available on cassette: $3 (SALE!)

Bring in the Harvest (Philadelphia Singers)

This 2004 album features tuneful choral masterpieces by Aaron Copland and John Rutter as well as original songs like the country song “Count Your Blessings” and the lush crossover ballad “Delight Yourself in the Lord.” This album also includes a bonus track of one the latter song in an extended duet version.

Available on CD only: $12

To the Children (Young Ambassadors & Family)

This album features the greatest children’s hits from the previous 10 years of Philadelphia Singers albums plus debut releases of Herbert W. Armstrong College’s Young Ambassadors, the 2006 Armstrong Concert Choir and the 2006 Junior Ambassadors: songs like “When You’re Smiling,” “Let There Be Peace on Earth” and a jazzy rendition of the Gaither hit “I Am a Promise.”

Available on CD only: $10

Songs for Tomorrow (Philadelphia Singers)

This 2007 release, subtitled “A Fresh Look at the Best of 1995-2005” celebrates the greatest hits of the Philadelphia Singers’ 10-years as a group. This album features remixes and rearrangements of songs like “She Is Wisdom,” “Streets of a New Town” and “All Things New.”

Available on CD only: $12

Festival 2006 (Young Ambassadors)

Take a musical tour of the Herbert W. Armstrong College campus in the debut film by the school’s Young Ambassadors. This entertaining look at the college features classic tunes like “Sing, Sing, Sing,” “Route 66” and “Stand By Me.”

Available on DVD only: $15

Festival 2007 (Young Ambassadors)

HWAC’s Young Ambassadors are back in their second festival film, singing and dancing to classics like “On the Sunny Side of the Street,” “It’s a Grand Night for Singing,” and “The Lion Sleeps Tonight.” Take a trip back in time as the group explores the American musical era of ragtime, and follow the Young Ambassadors off campus as they reach out to the community with their music.
